

NEW ENGLAND REGION 1-1
U.S. NAVAL SEA CADET OF THE YEAR AWARD

PRESENTED TO
CHIEF PETTY OFFICER SEAN HAUTER
SQUADRON SEVEN-ZULU

For service as set forth in the following CITATION:

“For truly outstanding performance of duty in 2013 while serving as the Command Chief Petty Officer of Squadron SEVEN-ZULU, Quincy, Massachusetts. In all respects, CPO Hauter has led “from the deckplates”. Thanks in large part to his dedication to planning and executing unit drills, Squadron SEVEN-ZULU and Training Ship WASP have developed new hands-on training opportunities and achieved record completion rates in cadet advanced trainings, correspondence courses and promotions. CPO Hauter’s chain of command attributes much of the unit’s recent success to his personal example, maturity and leadership. CPO Hauter has completed his own advancement requirements in record time, thereby demonstrating leadership by example. He was hand-picked for, and successfully completed, two NSCC recruit training staff billets in California, serving as Training Officer and as Battalion Command Chief. In addition, he participated in the U.S. Naval Academy’s 2013 Summer Seminar and was named Overall Outstanding Candidate, a rare award. He has excelled at Hull High School, where he was recently recognized as a top ten academic student and the captain of the football team. CPO Hauter’s consistent record of achievement both in the NSCC and the community reflect great credit upon himself, and are in keeping with the highest traditions of New England Region 1-1, the U.S. Navy, the U.S. Coast Guard, and the U.S. Naval Sea Cadet Corps. Bravo Zulu.”

Matthew P. Landry
Lieutenant Commander, NSCC
Regional Director 1-1